

ONE MILLION BONES

One Million Bones is a social action arts installation designed to raise awareness of genocides and atrocities going on around the world. The main focus is on making people aware of what's happening in Sudan, the Congo and Burma, and providing an opportunity for them to take action in response.

The Road to Washington

The Road to Washington is the next step in the One Million Bones journey to the National Mall installation in 2013. There will be simultaneous installations of 2500 bones in all fifty state capitals in April of 2012. Over 125,000 bones will be laid down to symbolize our shared human connection to those all over the world.

Participate in a “Bone-making Event” in New Bern

Events are being held throughout North Carolina, which will result in 2,500 bones being installed in Raleigh on the weekend of April 28, 2012. You are invited to become part of a bone-making team in New Bern at any of the locations listed below. You can attend 1, or all 3. Please let us know so that we will have enough clay on hand. You don't need any artistic expertise, only a good heart.
